

Aggeliki Efstratia Kouzoumi

Aggeliki Efstratia Kouzoumi, is currently head of the Olive Oil Laboratory of Mytilene, an organization which belongs to the Hellenic Agricultural Organization “DIMITRA”, under the supervision of the Greek Ministry of Rural Development and Food.

Efstratia, is highly experienced in quality control and sensory evaluation and has participated in numerous scientific conferences and international quality olive oil competitions. She is the panel leader of Lesvos accredited organoleptic evaluation team.

Other notable professional activities include her involvement in environment projects, waste management, plant protection and olive oil cultivation research projects etc.

She holds a degree in Environmental Science and master’s degree in Environmental Policy and Management.